

This February 14th Hazel McCallion is celebrating her 101st birthday, and Luso Charitable Society is honoured to celebrate this next milestone and toast her amazing contributions to our community. For as long as one can remember Hazel has been centre stage and part of Mississauga's DNA. Mississauga and indeed, the world, knows Hazel and what she stands for. Her countless contributions are valued and appreciated far and wide.

As a Canadian businesswoman and retired politician, she served as the fifth mayor of the city of Mississauga for 36 years. Her devotion to residents and local businesses was and continues to be at the core of her concerted effort to ensure a vibrant community and service to one another.

In recognition and celebration of Hazel's 100th Birthday, Luso commissioned Angelo Di Martino, a local artist to do an original portrait of Hazel. With Hazel's support and endorsement Luso launched the sale of autographed, Limited Edition print of that original art to raise funds for Luso participants and their families.

Luso Canadian Charitable Society has released a further number of these prints, personally signed by her, in recognition of another great year in the life of this Canadian icon.

These beautifully framed art pieces have been welcome editions to businesses, organizations and residences not only in Mississauga but across regions. Hazel has touched many; and these limited pieces capture a moment that represented her strong support of individuals living with disabilities within our community. You can share in this by owning your very own signed edition.

Luso Canadian Charitable Society continues to sell these Limited Reproductions, to raise needed funds to support individuals living with disabilities in our communities. Luso is an organization that provides a safe, supportive and caring environment for individuals and families living with physical and/or developmental disabilities.
