Hi. I had some questions and comments about the redevelopment at Centennial mall.

-I think this is a great location for building some higher density housing, but how much of it is going to be affordable for lower income people?

-A lot of people in the area shop in the grocery store, which is to be removed in a future phase. The next closest one is 2 km away. Is it possible to require the developer to build a new grocery store at the base of one of the condo towers?

-The plan seems to be for mostly single bedroom condos. Is there really a need for so many? I would think that more "family sized" homes with multiple bedrooms would be needed.

Thanks,
