I am writing to express my concern and disapproval of the proposed building on John and Chapel street. Chapel street is a small side street with individual family homes. It is both short sighted and disrespectful to the people living in this area to build a massive tower. It is also disrespectful to the residents living in the apartment building next to the proposed site. There are so many places in Brampton where buildings can be erected especially along the Go line, Hurontario street south Street and Queen street. Noone on city council would like a large building built next to their house which I assume most live in houses. It is erroneous to equate residential buildings with progress. I am not agains residential buildings but it seems to be that the mess we see by Square One and downtown Toronto should not be duplicated in Downtown Brampton. A small building or town houses should be considered for this proposed area.
